INDEPENDENCE PLAY: HANCOCK COUNTY CELEBRATES THE FOURTH OF JULY

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

Hancock County celebrated the Independence Day weekend with multiple events, including what volunteers said was a “record” turn-out for the Our Lady of the Gulf Crab Fest, plus plenty of waterfront activities and fireworks.

“I think there’s more people here (for Crab Fest) than I’ve ever seen before,” event volunteer Jerry West said Saturday night during the third day of the 39th annual event. “It’s been hot, but everybody’s coming out to enjoy the fest.”

The Crab Fest is Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church’s signature event and its largest fundraiser of the year. In addition to the seafood delicacies, carnival rides and live music, the event featured more than 150 arts & crafts booth.

Also in Bay St. Louis on Saturday, the Garden Isle Community Association hosted its annual Fourth of July Boat Parade on the Jourdan River.

“We’ve been doing this for generations, more than 40 years,” association President Kyle Craig said. “It’s a

James “Jimmy” Chilimigras, a 15-year-old Bay St. Louis native, recently became the youngest person ever to pass the CPA exam.

“I genuinely enjoy learning and my own competitive side enjoys the challenge of setting records, and seeing if I can do something that nobody has done before,” Jimmy said. “This doesn’t mean that I like interacting with people any less. The Hancock County Library System has secured a special appearance by Dr. Catherine Pierce, the current Poet Laureate for the State of Mississippi, and co-director of the creative writing program at Mississippi State University, during what will be a full two-day “residency,” July 13-14, 2023.

Executive director, John Brdecka announced that Pierce will present some of her writings on Thursday, July 13, during the library’s AUTHORS & CHARACTERS program, as well as conduct a special writing workshop for teens at the BSL Library that afternoon. Additionally, on Friday, July 14, the Poet Laureate will conduct a creative writing workshop for adults at The ARTS, Hancock County art center located at 405 Blaize Avenue in Bay St. Louis. Interested adults can register for the workshop online < www.hancockarts.org > or call the arts center directly at 228-342-4521.

Brdecka credited collaborations with the local arts group and the 100 Men Hall for making this unique residency possible. “The HCLS is working in partnership through our Bay St. Louis Library branch. We’re bringing a nationally recognized literary talent to the community and making programs available at little or no cost to area residents. This is truly remarkable to be able to provide someone of Catherine’s caliber in a forum so accessible to everyone.”

Dr. Pierce is midway through a four-year appointment in her role as the state’s literary arts advocate and champion promoter of poetry. Mississippi’s Poet Laureate serves as the official state poet, creating and reading poetry at state occasions and agency activities, and representing the Magnolia State’s rich cultural heritage. The Mississippi Poet Laureate program began in 1963. The Office of the Governor, in partnership with the Mississippi Arts Commission and Mississippi’s other cultural agencies, appoints the position to a four-year term. Pierce’s term expires in 2025.

Commenting about her visit to Bay St. Louis, Pierce stated, “Poems give us permission to stop for a little while, tune out the constant hum of the world around us and give our attention fully to something. I hope to help all Mississippians gain access to poetry in a way that’s meaningful for them, and I’m honored to have the opportunity to be doing this work.”

Pierce is the winner of the 2021 Poetry Award from the Mississippi Institute of Arts and Letters (MIAL) for her book Danger Days, a collection of poems addressing the human condition, the beauty of the world, our relationship with the planet we inhabit, and the responsibility we all bear for its care. Pierce has authored four books of poetry.

In 2020, Pierce received a Mississippi Arts Commission Literary Artist Fellowship for her poetry, as well as the Pushcart Prize for her poem “Entreaty.” In 2019, she was awarded a Creative Writing Fellowship from the National Endowment for the Arts. Pierce also received an earlier Pushcart Prize in 2018 for her poem, “I Kept Getting Books about Birds.”

Her poems have appeared in The Best American Poetry, American Poetry Review, The Southern Review, The Nation, Boston Review and the New York Times, among many other publications. For more information visit Pierce’s website at: www.catherinepiercepoet.com/.

Bay St. Louis First Responders perform service work for Mrs. Shirley Necaise, a life time supporter of the Bay St. Louis community. For those of you who don't know her, Mrs. Necaise has been doing alterations for the community for many years. It is rumored she has sewn a few thousand prom dresses. Mrs. Necaise was recently widowed in the fall following the loss of her husband, John Necaise. She is widely popular with the local high schools, police department, fire department, and military service members. Mrs. Necaise has routinely performed alterations on first responders and military uniforms without accepting compensation. In appreciation for her support of our First Responders, the Bay St. Louis Police Department teamed up with the Fire Department and Favre Towing to clean up and work on her property. Clean up included shed, railroad ties, debris, and limb removal, grass cutting, and swimming pool fence repair. Photos submitted

Flag Retirement Program

Edmond Fahey Funeral Home works with local residents and the veterans services organizations to properly retire any U.S. flag that has reached the end of its service. Our program is designed to honor our national heroes, our military veterans, and to give dignity to our American Flag when it is no longer worthy of display. We strive to see that each veteran being cremated has a flag. There is no charge for this service to our veterans.

According to the United States code, Title 4, Chapter 1, Subsection 8: "The flag, when it is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning."

If you would like to honor a deceased veteran by donating an aged or worn flag to be properly disposed of, you may do so by delivering the flags to our funeral home located on the corner of Necaise Avenue and Main Street.

"We pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Plant in July to grow pumpkins of any size

It's July, and that means it's pumpkin planting time.

Pumpkins are part of our American heritage. Both Native Americans and the first European settlers grew them and depended on them for food. These early settlers used pumpkin in an assortment of dishes that included stews and soups. They made pumpkin pie by adding milk, honey and spices to the hollowed-out shell, then baking it.

Growing pumpkins takes a lot more effort than one might think since they are prone to several potentially devastating diseases and harmful insects.

To be ready for fall harvest, pumpkins must be grown during the most severe part of the summer when the weather is extremely hot and humid. These are two conditions pumpkins don't like very much.

If you would like to grow your own pumpkins for seasonal decorations and Thanksgiving pies, you need to plant pumpkin seeds this month.

Many growers are happy to get any pumpkin to a harvestable size and color, while others attempt to grow the big ones. Growing giant pumpkins has become a popular gardener's challenge in many parts of the country.

In 2009, I grew three Atlantic Giant pumpkins that weighed over 80 pounds each. It took a lot of time and care to get them to that size. I had to constantly watch for pests and diseases and then treat them as needed.

All the hard work paid off in the end. Both of my daughters were excited to have giant pumpkins that year. I donated one to a local elementary school, and the principal did a school contest to guess the weight of the pumpkin. Students, teachers and staff loved it.

According to the World Pumpkin Confederation, growing giant pumpkins achieved international recognition in 1900 when William Warnock of Goderich, Ontario, Canada sent a 400-pound entry to the Paris World's Fair. Since then, gardeners have continued to tweak their production methods and search for genetic improvements for increased size and weight.

In October of last year, I saw some impressive giant pumpkins on display at Silver Dollar City in Branson, Missouri. Hefty Henry weighed 1,023 pounds, Jumbo Jack weighed 1,030 pounds, Oscar the Outstanding weighed 1,029 pounds, and Petunia Pumpkin weighed an astonishing 1,341 pounds.

We may never grow the national record-winning pumpkin in the Magnolia State, but we do grow some fairly sizeable, high-quality pumpkins. In recent years, some Mississippi-grown giants have weighed in at over 100 pounds. It takes a lot of time and care for a pumpkin to reach that size here in Mississippi.

If you want to grow pumpkins but do not have a lot of time to spend caring for them, try growing some of the small varieties. They handle our hot and humid climate better and do not require as much of your time or care.

I plan on trying to grow more giant pumpkins this year. You should, too.

Hancock History: Waveland (1968-2023)

Waveland was fortunate to have strong leadership in the office of mayor from 1940 to present day. Three mayors named Garfield Ladner, John Longo Jr., and Tommy Longo accomplished remarkable hurricane recoveries, population and business growth, and possessed skilled political acumen. Each mayor was beloved by his constituents and was reelected over and over again. Except, of course, for the hurricanes, Waveland enjoyed an era of internal harmony and affection of its citizens for their "sleepy little village," that grew into a town, and then into a city, without most of the growing pains other communities in this nation experienced during this era.

Mayor Garfield John Ladner (1899-1974) gave thirty-four years of service to his native city, the last thirty-two as mayor. Under Ladner's leadership, the existing gas and water system was installed in Waveland. His last accomplishment was a $955,000 bond issue for construction of a sewer system. Old-timers remember Garfield as a friendly man, always wearing his signature hat and his walking cane, visiting the local hangouts every day, getting a feel of the pulse of the community. His style of leadership served as a successful role model imitated by his successors. During the 1960's the population of Waveland increased from 1,106 to 3,108 souls.

Mayor John Longo Jr. (1929-1992) was a five-time mayor and three-time alderman. His greatest achievement was to develop and construct the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District. Under his leadership Waveland expanded by annexation, enticed new businesses to locate in Waveland, and helped create a new shopping center on Highway 90. He served as mayor from 1974 to 1990. The US Post Office building on Highway 90 was named in his honor. Longo was clever in finding grant monies from state and federal sources. He believed the city should be run like a business, and he left office with Waveland in good financial shape.

John Thomas "Tommy" Longo (1958-2019) was the son of John Longo Jr. Tommy served three terms as mayor from 1998 to 2010. He was known as a selfless man and will be remembered in the hearts of the inhabitants of Waveland for his performance leading the city of Waveland to recovery after Hurricane Katrina. For much of the period after the storm he lived in a tent or a small room in the sewerage plant. His only concern during that time was getting Waveland put back together again. When the Lowes store management called to express their condolences, Tommy told them that if you really want to help us out, open up your store again, and they did.

July is National Park and Recreation Month

America has celebrated July as National Park and Recreation Month, celebrating unbridled outdoor recreation and encouraging everyone to explore their local recreational facilities and parks in honor of summer and the beauty of nature.

Designated in 1985 as National Park and Recreation Month by the National Recreation and Park Association (NRPA), the month of July is ideal for small groups and families to rediscover their local parks and visit new ones. Encouraging outdoor physical activity and actively promoting parks and recreation in communities across the country, the NRPA actively supports and promotes creative celebrations through their magazine Parks & Recreation, and encourages communities and townships to submit their own celebration and activity information.

The object of the NRPA and National Park and Recreation Month isn't just to encourage outdoor recreational activity and increase park visitation, but also to recognize and salute those who work in the parks system to make our park experience enjoyable and unforgettable. The beauty of a park can reside within our hearts and minds long after we have left, and children and adults alike will certainly enjoy the tranquility and peace of such natural serenity. We should consider the care and effort that goes into maintaining our parks by the vast number of park employees who dedicate themselves to the difficult but rewarding task of park maintenance.

You can check your park websites, or activity listings in your local papers, to find out what programs and activities may be occurring in your area in honor of National Park and Recreation Month. Many communities celebrate enthusiastically with park pride days, park picnics, group hikes, park beautification activities, and much more.

Outdoor recreation is a key factor of National Park and Recreation Month, focusing on the need for physical activity, and what better place to enjoy physical activity than during the many beautiful summer days in the month of July. Although the many activities and celebrations can be overwhelmingly fun, the importance of physical activity should not be forgotten, and should especially be instilled in children and young adults.

The NRPA website, nrpa.org, contains more information and tools for communities to utilize in order to create their own list of activities and celebrations. Samples of proclamations and press releases are available for download, as well as a sample not rebuild after Hurricane Camille to the importance it held before the storm. The wooden “Town Hall” building was rebuilt with bricks and was able in 1969 to be called “City Hall” thanks to the growth of the population. The Post Office, school, fire station and Dairy Queen survived as well as Toomy’s Shell Gasoline Service Station, Haverty’s Restaurant and Lounge, and both bars. Pearl and Fred Perterman opened Peterman’s Delicatessen in 1970.

Nevertheless, the construction of a major shopping center at Waveland Avenue and US Highway 90, called Our Shopping Center, where Brown’s Vineyard once stood, signaled a shift in the center of gravity of commerce away from Coleman Avenue. Other businesses also began to locate at Highway 90 which included fast food chains, a pet shop, and several real estate firms. The big-box store, Walmart, opened in 1988 in the Choctaw Shopping Center on Highway 90. After Hurricane Katrina, Coleman Avenue is no longer a busy marketplace.

WILLARD LADNER

On June 15, 2023, Willard Ladner, devoted husband, father, and grandfather, departed this earthly life after a long valiant battle with cancer and went home to our Savior, Jesus Christ. He was born on April 25, 1937 to Xavier and Lucretia Ladner in Fenton, MS. After graduating high school, he enlisted in the US Army from 1957 to 59, where he was stationed in Germany together with Elvis Presley. In 1960 he began employment with Coast Electric Power Association, married Cecile L. Malley, and went on to have 4 children: Willard Ladner Jr, Tina Roundtree, Phillip Ladner, and Howard Ladner. Willard was preceded in death by his parents; grandson, Brett Ladner; brothers, Xavier Ladner Jr. and Arthur Lee Ladner; and sisters, Marie Warren, Eva Gay Cuevas, Odelia Wendling, and Lois Cuevas. He is survived by his wife, Cecile Ladner; children, Willard Jr, Tina, Phillip, and Howard; grandchildren, Kristen Broussard, Phillip Ladner Jr., and Mark Rabb; great grandchildren, Payton Achee, Chloe Achee, Mason Patrick, and Lance Rabb; sister, Elnora Ladner; and numerous nieces and nephews. In 1992 he retired after 32 years of being a loyal employee. An avid and master gardener throughout his life, he could mostly be found in his garden where he felt closest to God & where he would be found giving his grandchildren rides in his wheelbarrow, as well as teaching by his example, the life skills learned by tending a garden: “Faith” of things not yet seen, “Commitment” of regular care, and “Patience” to see results. His great appreciation of nature’s “portal to inner peace” was also evident in his enjoyment of gathering bounty from our Bay & Gulf waters during fishing and shrimping trips with family and friends. Whether from land or sea, he was passionate about sharing his harvest with all. He loved cooking it all up for and with family especially. He was notably an award-winning chef representing CEPA. Willard, who was never without a dance partner, was also an excellent Dancer (jitterbug, two-step, waltz, etc.), enjoying a variety of music including Elvis’ “An Evening Prayer” CD. Now that Willard is fishing with the Master of the Seas, he will remain forever in our hearts. His Spirit lives on in the lives he touched with his most genuine kindness. Private services were held on Monday June 19th 2023 at Most Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Pass Christian. In lieu of flowers, please make donations to Most Holy Trinity Catholic Church. A More Perfect Union

By REV. C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN

C. Gerald Richardson, D. MIN.

The Declaration of Independence was signed by our founding fathers on July 4, 1776. All these years later, it can be tempting to think of the signing of this important document as the deciding factor in what was to eventually become the United States of America. It was vitally important, and it did set the stage for what was to come, but several years were required to bring an emerging country into fruition.

Those intervening years were filled with hardship, many lost battles, hard-won alliances with other nations (especially France), disappointment, and great loss of life. There was not always agreement as to what were to be the goals of this new independence. George Washington, who was the commander of Colonial forces, was often maligned and questioned for his decisions and leadership style. During most of those revolutionary years, it would have seemed unlikely that he would one day be known as the “father of our country”.

Through all of these challenges and uncertainties, there eventually emerged a new nation with a new constitution, and new hope. One of the profound goals then, which still exists today, was an often overlooked desire to “.....form a more perfect union.”

The leaders of this struggling new nation were mostly spiritual people. That does not mean that their faith journeys were comparable to the ones which dominate in our day. Some were Deists. Others were Unitarians. Thomas Jefferson, who was a primary writer of the Declaration of Independence, had serious doubts about many sections of the bible. He is said to have used a razor to cut out passages with which he disagreed, resulting in a much thinner document. There was, however, a deep spirituality in their lives which guided much of their thinking and endowed our national culture with a conscience which, while not fully developed, gave us a foundation upon which compassion and grace would hold a place.

There was much left undone. Slavery was assumed as an acceptable norm. Voting rights were very limited, and they heavily favored wealthy, land-owning, white males. It was a start, and the work of forming a more perfect union was underway. It still is.

Throughout these 247 years since that first Independence Day the United States has faced many difficult challenges. We have endured wars, economic depression, disagreements over race relations, gender roles, sexual orientation, cultural differences, educational expectations, and much more. Some would argue that our nation has more disagreements now than ever before. Certainly, media expansion has made those arguments more public and accessible to more people than they have ever been. Some question whether we can endure.

It is important to remember that the founders did not say that the goal was “a perfect union”, but to seek to make it “more perfect”. That is exactly the goal of the spiritual life. We will always be human. We will make mistakes. We will sometimes misunderstand others, and we are likely to be misunderstood. What we can do is keep trying. We can be willing to “cut a little slack” when things become tense. We can pray for grace. We can keep striving for that more perfect union.

NOTICED IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE WAVELAND PLANNING AND ZONING COMMISSION WILL HOLD A PUBLIC HEARING FOR CONSIDERATION OF AMENDMENTS TO THE ZONING ORDINANCE WITH A REVIEW OF THE CURRENT COMPREHENSIVE PLAN ON MONDAY, JULY 24TH, 2023 AT 6:00 P.M. AND TO CONSIDER THE FOLLOWING:

Note: All Meetings of the Waveland Planning and Zoning Commission are held in the Mayor and Board of Alderman Board Room located on the 1st Floor of City Hall, 301 Coleman Avenue, Waveland, MS 39676.
Charles Kihneman, owner of the property commonly known as 4327 Caspian St., parcel #138M-0-33-196.000, has made an application for the temporary use of an RV during the new construction of his primary structure. Mr. Kihneman was unaware of the Ordinance for RVs and placed it on the property where it currently sits. After receiving a notice of violation, Mr. Kihneman came to the City of Waveland Building Dept. to become compliant.
Mayor Jay Trapani gave Mr. Kihneman permission to stay in the RV during this process in order to protect his materials from theft or damage from vagrants in the area. The RV permit will allow continued occupancy for 180 days.
Joyce Moran, owner of the properties commonly known as 100 & 102 E. Meadow Ln, parcel #161D-0-02-027.000, has made an application for a variance in order to split her lot. The property was originally two lots. Therefore, there are currently 2 living structures on the property. Proposed parcel 1 will need a 100' street frontage variance since it will not be directly off the street but use an easement from parcel 2. Parcel 2 will need an 80' street frontage variance as it will have 20' of street frontage along E. Meadow Ln.
Raymond Langlois, owner of the property commonly known as 419 Waveland Ave, parcel #162K-0-10-090.000, has made an application for variances in order to place an accessory storage shed closer to his property lines. His request is for a 5' variance from the required 10' on the side property line and 10' variance from the required 15' rear property line as stated in Ord. #349 for accessory structures more than 12' away from the primary structure. This is to place the shed far away from a protected live oak tree.
Eugene Ferry Jr., owner of the property commonly known as 115 St. Joseph St., parcel #161M-0-11-013.000, has made an application for variance in order to split his lot into 3 new parcels. Proposed parcels 1 & 2 will need a 70' street frontage variance and proposed parcel 3 will need a 30' street frontage variance from the required 100' street frontage as stated in Zoning Ord. #349. No variances need for square footage requirement on the proposed new parcels.

Suzette Surbeck, owner of the property commonly known as 226 Sandy St., parcel #162J-0-10-210.000, has made an application for the temporary use of an RV during new construction of her primary residence. The RV permit will allow occupancy for 180 days.

Tom and Joal Stone, owners of the property commonly known as 115 Mollere Dr., parcel #161F-0-02-042.000, have made an application for variances in order to place an accessory structure closer to their property lines. Their request is for a 10' variance from the required 25' rear setback from the property line as stated in Ord. #349 for accessory structures less than 12' away from the primary structure. This will make the rear setback 15' from the property line.
Gary Ponthieux & Kacey Edwards, owners of the property commonly known as 118 Seabrook Dr., parcel # 161B-2-01-019.008, have made an application for a conditional use in order to construct an accessory structure larger than the allowed maximum 500 square feet as stated in Zoning Ord. #349. They are also requesting a 5' left side-yard variance from the required 10' from the property line and a 5' rear-yard variance from the required 15' from the property line. His proposed structure will be 1,200 square feet and have a 5' setback from the left side-yard and 10' setback from the rear property lines.
Tabitha Thompson, leasing the property commonly known as 541 Hwy 90, parcel #138Q-0-34-038.000, has made an application for a Conditional Use in order to operate a Medical Cannabis Micro Cultivation Facility. The property is currently zoned C-3: Highway Commercial and Zoning Ord. #349 does not have any requirements or conditions concerning medical cannabis.
THE WAVELAND BOARD OF MAYOR AND ALDERMEN WILL CONSIDER FINAL APPROVAL OF THE PLANNING AND ZONING COMMISSION ON TUESDAY, AUGUST 1ST, 2023 AT 6:30 P.M.
THIS IS ALSO NOTIFICATION THAT THE PLANING AND ZONING COMMISSION IS A RECOMMENDING COMMISSION ONLY.

stranger to the arid landscapes, has left his mark on the challenging terrain of the Gobi March in Mongolia—an unforgettable race etched in his memory. The Gobi March, renowned for its unforgiving conditions and rugged terrain, tested John’s physical and mental strength like never before. The race unfurled amidst the stunning landscapes of Mongolia, where vast open spaces and formidable winds pushed him to his limits.

As John faced the vast expanse of the Mongolian desert, the race became a true test of his mettle. The scorching sun beat down relentlessly, the arid air parched his throat, and the shifting sands seemed to conspire against his every step. But it was within these challenging elements that John discovered his unyielding determination, drawing strength from the unforgiving beauty of the surroundings.

Reflecting on his experience, John shares, “The Gobi March in Mongolia was a defining moment in my ultramarathon journey. The race took us through rugged terrains, where the desert seemed to stretch infinitely. The heat was intense, and the conditions demanded every ounce of my resilience. But the sheer awe-inspiring beauty of the Mongolian landscape provided a constant reminder of why I had embarked on this incredible adventure.”

Navigating the treacherous Gobi Desert, John encountered a multitude of obstacles that tested both his physical and mental fortitude. The rocky terrains challenged his agility and precision, while the blistering heat necessitated strategic adjustments to his pace to avoid overheating. John’s ability to adapt and persevere under such grueling circumstances showcased his unwavering determination.

The camaraderie forged amidst the challenging conditions became a vital source of motivation and support. As he braved the relentless desert, John found solace in the shared experiences and stories of his fellow racers. Their conversations about families, jobs, and past race triumphs became a lifeline during the long hours on the trail. The bonds formed in the crucible of the Gobi March transcended mere competition, embodying the spirit of unity and collective strength.

While the Gobi March left an indelible mark on John’s journey, it was part of a much larger accomplishment—the completion of the prestigious 4 Deserts Ultramarathon Series. In addition to the Gobi March, John conquered the Namib Race in Namibia, the Atacama Crossing in Chile, and the Last Desert in Antarctica. This extraordinary feat granted him entry into the es-

Mayley Band for entertaining the crowd. Diamondhead Police Department and Fire Department for keeping everyone safe and directing traffic as efficiently as possible. Last, but not least, we would like to thank the wonderful residents and friends who attended and helped to make the celebration a success.”

This year, the association offered prizes in three categories: Most Patriotic, Most Enthusiastic and Most Creative.

The Most Patriotic prize went to boat owners Karen and Malcom Melacon; Most Enthusiastic went to Mike and Debrah Farley; and Most Creative went to Troy and Denise Lawrence.

This year’s king was David T. Williams. The queen was Emmylou Henry.

teemed 4 Deserts Club, solidifying his position among the world’s elite endurance athletes.

Although an injury prevented John from completing the fifth race in Finland, his completion of the Grand Slam—a remarkable achievement in its own right—remains a testament to his unwavering determination and perseverance. With fewer than 100 individuals in the world who have accomplished this feat, John’s journey serves as an inspiration to all those who dare to push their limits and embrace the unknown.

Beyond the personal accolades and triumphs, John attributes a significant portion of his success to the unwavering support of his wife and family. Their constant love and encouragement provide him with the confidence to confront uncertainty and embrace the possibility of failure. John shares, “

I could never do any of these things without the support of my wife. She is my rock, and my family gives me the strength to face any challenge, knowing I am loved and supported, regardless of the outcome. They are always proud of me.”

John Bezou’s extraordinary journey through deserts and beyond serves as a powerful reminder of the indomitable human spirit. Through his unwavering determination, he has shattered his own limits, overcoming physical and mental barriers that would deter most. Furthermore, his experiences in the desert have illuminated the profound impact of human connection and the significance of teamwork. As we embark on our own journeys, may we draw inspiration from John’s resilience, pushing beyond our perceived boundaries and embracing the remarkable achievements that lie within our grasp.

This year’s judges included Rhonda Bridges, Sheriff Ricky Adam, Supervisor Scotty Adam, Councilman Josh DeSalvo and state Rep. Brent Anderson.

On Sunday, the Jourdan River Communities Association hosted its annual “Lighting Up Da Bay” celebration, with live music by Joni Compretta & Baytown Groove and a massive fireworks display.

“Many ‘thank you’s’ to the local and out of state businesses and weekenders supporting the continuation of this 10-plus year Fireworks tradition, event organizer Lonnie Falgout said. “From our present local and state officials to candidates presently running for elected office, your support is appreciated.”

MEET CHARLENE!

If this sweet girl competed in a beauty pageant, she would absolutely win the title of "Miss Congeniality!" She makes friends easily, and is loyal to her human and canine friends, of which she has many at the shelter. This 2 year old Catahoula Leopard Dog/American StaffordshireTerrier mix is a gem. Her mottled coat is typical of her South Louisiana Catahoula roots as are her lovely blue and brown eyes. Those Staffie genes added some "thickness" to her waistline, and to that loving, gregarious personality of hers. Charlene appears to be both house and crate trained, and she walks well on a leash/harness. She could join any family dynamic and be a star. Beautiful Charlene awaits you! Please stop by during our visiting hours Mon, Wed-Fri 10am-3:30pm and Tues 1:30pm-3:30pm to meet her, or you may call our front desk at 228-466-4516 to schedule an appointment. cords this year alone.

In addition to passing the Uniformed Certified Public Accountant exam on June 8, he set a new Guinness World Record, shattering the previous record set in 2015 by then-17-year-old Belicia Cespedes.

He also holds the highest LSAT score in 23 states, has earned both his bachelor’s and master’s degrees in accounting and is registered to begin law school at Loyola University in New Orleans next month.

“I’m really looking forward to law school,” he said. “I’m hoping I can give back to the community a bit by helping my fellow students with their testing. I think I’ve figured out how to do that well and I think maybe I can help them out, as well.”

His parents John and Erin understandably say they’re very proud of Jimmy.

“When he took the ACT and SAT at 12, he was 99 percentile in both of those,” John said. “He’s a very fast reader and somehow retains all of it. We think that’s one of the things that led him to do so well on these tests.”

John said that while the whole family is understandably very proud of Jim, he’s also still a very normal and down-to-earth teenager who enjoys spending time with his family and friends.

“I really enjoy fishing and doing anything outdoors,” he said, and “Being done with all high level academic math at just 15 means I now have a lot more time for socializing and enjoying life than my friends who are just starting high school.”

While his grandmother was a medical doctor, Jimmy said he believes his true calling is the law.

“I recognize that I’m smart and know that I would make a good scientist, or a good doctor like my grandmother, but this would not be the optimum path for me,” he said. “Even if I wanted it that way, rather than being a good doctor, I have the opportunity to be the best lawyer, or maybe even a great judge, someday. hope to eventually serve others using my fullest capabilities as one of the nation’s top lawyers, helping people through their most difficult moments in life, or helping to craft the fairest and best laws that can contribute to our country’s excellence as a great place to be for all people.”

He also wants to stay in Mississippi, rather than take his talents elsewhere.

“I’m very proud to be a Mississippian and of the Gulf Coast,” he said. Some states, because of their larger populations and sizable budgets, are able to lure away top legal talent. I’d love to make those states and corporations think twice before bringing any legal action within Mississippi jurisdiction or before attempting anything that would negatively impact our area. It would be a dream come true to one day represent Mississippi as an Attorney General, or establish a new top-tier legal firm right here.”

Detour signage will be in place, and motorists should seek alternate routes.

“Thanks to local visionaries and private investment, the Menge Ave. interchange will soon undergo a major expansion, attracting more motorists and driving economic growth,” said Commissioner Tom King, Southern Transportation District.

“We’re proud to work with our partners on this project to ensure the design and construction of this interchange meets state and federal standards that keep the trav-

BREAK-FISH

Shore Thing Fishing Report

BY CPT. SONNY
SCHINDLER

I don't get to hang out with my friends and family a whole bunch, this time of year. Most every good weather day, I am up early, on the water fishing, and in bed early for the next day. When I do have time to hang out with my loved ones, I do my best to make it count.

A couple of weeks back our friends Joe and Juanita Khuner had booked a trip for themselves. We were hanging out with them a few days before their trip. They are close enough friends, that my wife asked to come along for the day of fishing and fun. They insisted she come along, and man was a great day.

The weather wasn't very cooperative. It was a little breezy and the water was dirty. We opted to stay in the Back Bay, fishing the protected waters. The bite was actually fantastic though. It was pretty much an every cast bite of sheepshead, puppy drum, and the occasional redfish and speckled trout. Just about every live shrimp that went out, came back with either a fish or a bare hook. Stephanie got the biggest catch of the day, with a huge bull red(tagged and released). We only fished for about an hour and a half, and had way more fish than we needed for a dinner that evening. We really didn't want the fun to end, it was only 8:30, but everyone was getting hungry. My snack box of cookies and crackers were just not gonna cut it.

I asked the crew if they wanted to go to breakfast. It was a unanimous YES! As they started trying to figure out whose car we would take, and how we would deal with the boat and trailer, I pointed the boat the opposite direction of our parked cars.

I think when they saw the bay St. Louis Harbor, they figured out what was going on. We parked the boat at the Day pier and walked into Old Town. I imagine we got a few curious looks, and maybe heard a few comments about our appearances. Our clothes were a little messy with fish slime, and everyone's hair was wild from the boat ride.

We went to Cosmos in the Pearl Hotel, and had a wonderful breakfast together. They all thought it was the coolest thing, taking a boat to breakfast. I'll be honest, this is my 21st year of charter fishing, and I have never taken a group to breakfast via boat on a charter. I'm just glad the unique and fun experience was with good friends, especially my wife.

When we were wrapping up our day, everyone was very excited with the fishing and the unique breakfast experience. Juanita even insisted that we do this on our next charter. She even gave it a witty name, "BREAK-FISH".
